RE: BC³ Academy for Math and Science Study Enhancement, June 7-11th, 2010

Rutherford County area math, science, technology and vocational teachers are invited to apply for the 2009 “Business, Community, and Classroom Connections (BC³) Academy for Math and Science Study Enhancement,” June 7-11th, 2010. The academy is coordinated by the Business Education Partnership Foundation (BEP) at the Rutherford County Chamber of Commerce. It is funded by Destination Rutherford.

The academy is open to 32 math, science, and vocational teachers for grades 5-12 in Rutherford County, and is composed of eight (8) study focus areas. The goal is to provide teachers with experiences necessary to connect education with real world application. Participants will discover how math and science principles are used by businesses, industries, and government facilities and learn how to integrate this information into their classrooms.

Teachers also create and present classroom lessons on CD-Rom that incorporates real world examples of math and science. They will be able to use this as a teaching aid in their classrooms and share it with other educators.

Teachers who complete the academy will receive professional development credit and a stipend or college credit. If college credit is chosen, the stipend will go towards the college credit.

Application deadline is April 26th, 2010**
